Ecologic Institute

Monica Ridgway from Ecologic Institute represented POCACITO throughout a series of events during the 9th ASEAN Science and Technology Week [3] held in Bogor, Indonesia from 19-23 August 2014. Sponsored by the EU FP7 project SUSTAIN EU-ASEAN [4], the events included a cities cluster meeting, public science workshop, media training workshop and science and technology exhibition. Representatives of projects from both regions met and discussed state-of-the-art research as well as potential synergies, partnerships and future research collaborations. Insights from POCACITO were presented during the public science workshop as well as the science and technology exhibition.
